

Ananda

PIANO & VIOLIN DUO

ORIGINAL CELTIC CLASSICAL
NEW AGE FUSION

HIGHLIGHTS

Top 20 Indie Songs 2016
Women of Substance Radio, L.A.

Come-See-Me-Festival
Rock Hill, SC

Comfort for the Soul
Hospice Benefit Concert,
YAC Community Performance
Center, Rock Hill, SC

First Night Charlotte
Omni Hotel, Charlotte, NC

VENUES

Art Galleries
Concert Halls
Churches
House Concerts
Retirement Communities
Weddings

I M A G I N E . . .

Two of the most beautifully enchanting musical instruments ever crafted by human hands... their combined sensibilities blended into original creations influenced by Celtic and Classical passion... and a calmness that will shroud your spirit like a coat pulled tight around you on a winter's day walk. Pianist PJ Brunson and violinist Laurie Neal weave intricate, haunting melodies together in artful arrangements that will soothe your spirit and move your soul. The inspiring and gorgeous compositions, presented by two very personable performers, are ultimately unforgettable ... as they will play in your mind long after the listening ends.

REVIEWS

Kristy Marett, Up Close, Rock Hill SC: "A gentle intertwining of beautiful piano and violin, weaving threads of melody and harmony as each player improvises upon the suggestions of the other. It truly is blissfully beautiful music to hear"

John Grooms, Creative Loafing, Charlotte, NC: "The album is a collection of piano-and-violin duos... performed in a New Age style, although that label doesn't do justice to the calm beauty and melodic gifts evinced in the music."

Andrea Powell, HPCCR Marketing Community Awareness Specialist, Charlotte, NC: "The name Ananda in Sanskrit means perfect bliss and it's a fitting name for this duo because their music is a delight to the ears. The entire album is calming, gentle, and healing"

